

Where would you be without your farmworkers?

With satisfied workers, you may never have to know.

Would you be interested in:

- Participating in a conversation about your farm's labor successes and challenges?
- Inviting a few of your workers to discuss elements of a positive workplace?
- Hosting a joint meeting with your workers to develop a plan for improving workplace relations on your farm?
- Provide advice for a guidebook on "best labor practices" for workplace cooperation on NYS farms?

If so, please consider participating in the Cornell Farmworker Program's Improving Workplace Relations Project and help us keep workers on New York State Farms.
