

Community Gardening Education in New York State Counties with Master Gardener Volunteers of Cornell Cooperative Extension

(based on activities in 2002)

See also:

Cornell Cooperative Extension Educational Demonstration Gardens

<http://www.gardening.cornell.edu/education/mgprogram/gardens.html>

Master Gardener Volunteers of Cornell Cooperative Extension in New York State Counties are engaged in a variety of educational programs. Some counties are involved with Community Gardens, Community Beautification and Community Trees.

Community Horticultural Improvement

Based on reported time from 2002, Master Gardener Volunteers in the following counties are involved with Community Horticultural Improvement Projects...

more than 30% of their collective time

Jefferson

Tioga

between 10 and 25% of their collective time

Cattaraugus/Allegany (two county unit)

Chemung

Erie

Essex

Fulton/Montgomery (two county unit)

Greene

Monroe

Oswego

Rensselaer

Suffolk

Sullivan

Washington

Wayne

Yates

less than 10% of their collective time

Cayuga

Chenango

Dutchess

Genesee Livingston
Oneida
Ontario
Orleans
Rockland
Saratoga
Schenectady
Seneca
Steuben
St. Lawrence
Tompkins
Ulster

Community Educational Demonstration Gardens

Master Gardener Volunteers in the following counties also report being involved in Educational Demonstration Gardens, which are often located on the grounds of the Cornell Cooperative Extension Offices in their county. While these are also a form of community gardening, their primary purpose is to provide an educational “classroom”, from which others in the county may learn.

Master Gardener Volunteers care for Educational Demonstration Gardens (of various sizes and scopes) in the following 35 counties...

more than 30% of their collective time

Albany
Broome
Dutchess
Oneida
Rockland
Westchester

between 10-25% of their collective time

Chemung
Genesee Livingston
Nassau
Ontario
Orange
Putnam
Tompkins

Ulster

less than 10% of their collective time

Cattaraugus/Allegany (two county unit)

Chenango

Clinton

Erie

Essex

Greene

Jefferson

Monroe

Niagara

Orleans

Otsego

Rensselaer

Saratoga

Schenectady

Suffolk

Sullivan

Tioga

Washington

Wayne